ABOUT ME

I am a dedicated DevOps engineer with a strong focus on designing robust, secure, and scalable infrastructure solutions and cloud-native systems. I developed Autonomous (A8S), a full-stack deployment platform built from scratch using Kubernetes, GitOps, CI/CD automation, monitoring, and DevSecOps practices to simplify application deployment and infrastructure management. My experience includes designing automated deployment pipelines, managing containerized environments, integrating security into development workflows, and building modern infrastructure solutions using technologies such as Docker, Kubernetes, Jenkins, Argo CD, Ansible, Vault, Prometheus, Grafana, and cloud platforms.
